BIG ROAD WORKING.

Notwithstanding the very busy season of the year there was a big turn out to work the roads Friday, and much effective work was accomplished. Especially that part of the road between Hartford and Pleasant Ridge was materially improved, and it is now possible to drive over it with speed and comfort. The pike between Hartford and Beaver Dam came in for its share of improvement. A quantity of crushed stone was hauled out from Beaver Dam and the holes and ruts were filled up. A tractor was used on this section of road to pull a grader, and the good result is apparent to travel over this section of road. Everywhere, from Green River church to Pleasant Ridge, the mud holes and bridges were put in a good state of repair, and the effect of this days work will show for months to come. A little later, when farm work is in better condition, another road working day will be called, and the road from Green river, through Centertown, Hartford, Dundee, Fordsville and on to the Hancock line, will be worked. At these roadworkings the Fiscal court will furnish the necessary stone, lumber and other material for use by the army of volunteer road workers. Those interested in good roads should begin now to interest the public in the great road working day ahead.

SOCIAL COURTESY.

If we quarreled with all the people who abuse us behind our backs, and began to tear our eyes out as soon as we set ours on them, what a life it would be, and when should we have any quiet? Abuse me, and I will abuse you; but let us be friends when we meet. . . . My back is at my neighbor's service; as soon as that is turned let him make what faces he thinks proper; but when we meet we grin and shake hands like well-bred folk, to whom clean linen is not more necessary than a clean, sweet-looking countenance, and a nicely got-up smile, for company — Thackeray.

PUT IN GUARD HOUSE.

When sheriff Bratcher delivered the deserters, Ode Wilson and Earl Ford, to the Provost Marshall's office, at Camp Taylor, last week, they were each closely questioned about their reasons for desertion and a record made of their answers after which they were sent to the guard house. The officer in charge told us the lowest penalty for desertion in time of war was ten years at hard labor in a federal penitentiary. However, civilians familiar with the handling of such matters at the Camp said that for youths of their ages choice was sometimes given between the penitentiary sentence and immediate embarkment for France. We do not know if this latter information is reliable.

GIRL WITH $10,000.

Miss Vinu Hoops, nineteen years old daughter, of Mr. Thomas Hoops, of Cool Springs, came to Hartford Monday, and on her motion Halilo Elliott was qualified as her guardian to handle her estate of $10,000 she will receive as the beneficiary of an insurance policy made in her favor by her brother, a soldier in the national army, who recently died at Camp Hattiesburg, Miss. The Hoops family are poor but excellent people, and $10,000 will appear quite a sum of money to the young lady. Miss Hoops is a modest little girl, rather pretty, and we hope she may derive the best possible benefit from the small fortune that will come into her hands. She will receive from the government $57.50 each month until she has drawn the total sum.

THE WAR WEEK IN EUROPE.

The war week in Europe was productive of two world-interest events, the great Italian drive of the Austria army from the western bank of the Piave, in which the Austrian losses are estimated at more than two hundred thousand men in killed wounded and prisoners, and the speech of the German Foreign Secretary in the Reichstag, in which the admission was made that Germany could not win the war by the force of arms, and said that peace must come by negotiation. The overwhelming defeat of the Austrian army may fairly be expected to destroy the little spirit remaining in the Austrian empire, and it is doubtful if ever again an Austrian army will make a serious attempt to force its way into Italy. Austria is war-weary and starving, and it is doubtful if the day of internal revolution can be much longer stayed off by its military rulers.

Secretary von Kuehlmann's speech produced a profound sensation in Germany, and it is reported that he has tendered his resignation. Von Kuehlmann's speech is regarded as a diplomatic breaking of the news, to the German nation to prepare for a humiliating peace. Though not actually starving, as are the people of Austria, the German people are hungry, and the German national spirit is breaking under the strain of the deferred hour of victory. Western front inactive.

HELP WANTED.

Our idea of a local newspaper is, the largest possible volume of local news. We take it, that people buy a county paper chiefly for its weekly history of county events. We are anxious to chronicle such events, but to do so we must first get them from the people who know them. We are doing all our limited energy and industry can do to make a newspaper according to our ideal, and we want to ask every citizen who has knowledge of any event that is in anyway out of the ordinary course of happenings to report it to us. The news field is practically inexhaustible. There are enough actual news happenings in Ohio county every day in the week to make a daily paper, if they were reported, and we want to enlist the co-operation of every citizen in the county in the matter of reporting the news from his or her community. Too many people have a notion that "Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of 'Somewhere' are visiting the family of Mr. Brown," is about all the news worth reporting. The coming and going of people, especially of well-known people, is real news, but there are other events occurring in every neighborhood almost every day that are really news. Births, deaths, marriages, fires, accidents, farm sales, business deals of magnitude, new buildings erected, storm damage, crop conditions, and a multitude of other events that attract local attention are real news. Perhaps the simplest rule for determining news is, if the neighbors are telling it with interest to one another report it to the newspaper. This office has both telephones, and we will gratefully appreciate the favor if people who know anything that comes under the rules mentioned will call us up and report it.

VERY LITTLE POLITICS.

There is very little bolling in the political pot in Kentucky just now, but what little there is centered in the senatorial race. Senator James will have opposition for the nomination of his party, in the person of ex-Congressman Kimball, of Lexington, but there is some anxiety felt about the Senator's physical condition. He has been in a Baltimore hospital for several weeks, and despite rosy reports of his improvement he remains in the hospital.

For the first time in the history of Republican politics in Kentucky there is a contest for the nomination for United States senator. This condition comes about because of a hopeful feeling of electing a Republican to the Senate this year. Dr. Ben L. Bruner, of Louisville, and Judge H. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, are the contestants. Dr Bruner goes into the race handicapped with the opposition of his home county, Jefferson, and if mountain counties stand by Judge Bethurum, as it is claimed they will, the contest will be an unequal one.

CRAZY MAN SUICIDES.

Tom Kannady, of Coolsprings, who was adjudged a lunatic about a month ago, and sent to the asylum at Hopkinsville, committed suicide at that institution Saturday, by hanging himself. His body was brought home, Monday, for burial. Kannady's condition was believed at the time he was sent to the asylum to be very serious, and his friends did not expect him to return home alive.

OIL TRACE FOUND.

A trace of oil was struck on the Wallace farm, near Dundee, early Wednesday morning, at a depth of about three hundred feet. Work on the Wallace well was started several weeks ago, but little progress was made until Harold Holbrook bought the drilling outfit, fired a bunch of employees, and started drilling in earnest.

The Blue Lick water which was struck at about six hundred feet in the Hartford oil field was found at a depth of two hundred and seventy-five feet in the Wallace well. This would indicate that the oil sand would be reached at a depth of three hundred feet less in the Wallace well than in the Hartford field. This water is substantially the sulphur water at Sulphur Springs. The depth at which the Blue Lick water has been found indicates an ascent of strata in that direction, more indicative of all than the Hartford field.

The people drilling at Olaton have had much trouble with their machinery, and are making slow progress.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

According to the story of Ernest Mayfield, who was recently arrested by the sheriff of Davless county on a warrant from the Ohio county court charging him with shooting Dennis Hoagland, the Davless county sheriff has an eye to business. Mayfield alleges that after his arrest the sheriff informed him that he would have to pay the expenses of the trip to Hartford, and claims he did pay the sheriff $5.00. This is the first instance of which we have heard where a man arrested for crime was required to pay his own expenses to court for trial.

ASSESSOR'S DEPUTIES.

The assessor, or rather the county tax commissioner, as the new law has it, has appointed his deputies for the work of assessing, which will begin this year July 1. The deputies with their territorial assignments are:

L. B. Loney, of McHenry, Centertown and Rockport magisterial districts.

C. C. Carter, of Narrows, Narrows, Sulphur Springs and Shreve precincts.

T. D. Owen, of Hella, Hella precinct. Mr. Owen will probably accept some other territory, later.

E. H. Finley, of Balzotown, Arnold, Select, Horse Branch, Olaton, Rosine, Cromwell and Prentiss precincts.

Floyd Keowa, of Fordsville, territory not yet determined.

Will Brown, of Hartford, territory not yet assigned.

Tax commissioner's deputies are all experienced in the work of assessing, are capable men, and will perhaps make the best assessment ever made in the county.

RED CROSS ENTERTAINMENT.

The Hawaiian Octette, a band of native Hawaiian musicians touring the country in the interest of the Red Cross, gave an entertainment at McHenry Tuesday night, and a tidy sum was raised for the Red Cross treasury. Hartford people attending the entertainment speak in the highest terms of the artists of the little western island. Hartford people who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Simmerman and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Murphree, Mr. and Mrs. Lillian Riley, Misses Mattie Duke, Clara Robertson, Winnie Davis Shamerman, Beulah Pulmer, and Messrs. A. D.

Kirk, Estill Park, Gooddell Wooten and John Ad. Howard.

NOCREEK WEDDINGS.

Rev. Harper, pastor of Nocreek church, went home with Joe Thomason for dinner Sunday, and just after the noon meal Dorris Martin and Miss Adella Stewart drove up in an auto and called upon Brother Harper to perform the nuptial service. The young couple joined right hands and made the customary vows without alighting from the machine, and after receiving the preacher's blessings, went on their way rejoicing. A few minutes later Herman Richardson and Miss Myrtle Hudson drove up in a buggy and followed the Rev. Harper for a marriage service. They were married while sitting in the buggy, and were dismissed with the ministerial blessing. Thomason says what is worrying him is that Brother Harper will now be at his house for dinner every fourth Sunday.

ASSOCIATION DISBANDS.

With the Grand Master, Simon Smith, and Supreme Locker-Keeper, Gene McCulloch, called to military service, the Kentucky Frog Hunters Association has temporarily disbanded. Grand Master Smith confided the signs and pass words to the writer before boarding the train for Camp Taylor, Wednesday morning, with instructions to keep the gig, the great seal of the association, burnished and sharp. This organization is famous on the waters of Rough river from the mouth of Caney Creek to the confluence of the waters of Rough River with those of Adams Fork. For many years these famous frog hunters have broken the midnight stillness of these parts with the slow, stealthy stroke of the dingy boat oar, and pierced the inky darkness with the light of the carbide lamp.

The coming of the members of the Association was the annual event for the sport-loving citizens of the territory visited, and many was the citizen who toasted his feet at its congenial evening camp fires. Simon and Gene are princes of good fellowship and many will be the prayers to go up from the citizens of the frog lands for their safe return from the war fields of France.

THIEF ROBS STORE.

A thief put one over on the high cost of living, here Monday night. He entered the store of the American Co-operative Association sometime during the night and helped himself to provisions. Among the articles missing were about fifty pounds of sugar, four sacks of flour and a dozen bars of soap. Perhaps other articles were stolen but those mentioned were the only ones the manager could feel certain were missing. The thief entered the building by a window, the lock on which had been broken for several days.

PETIT JURY EXCUSED.

Judge Slack has asked sheriff Bratcher to notify the petit jurors summoned for the July term of circuit court not to appear for service. On account of the busy season with the farmers the Judge thought it better to let litigants wait upon the adjudication of their differences than to take the farmers out of their crops to perform jury service, and will have no jury trials at the term of court beginning Monday. The grand jury will appear for service as usual, but will be held for a brief session.

LAKE DIVISION RED CROSS ORGANIZATION.

There are 2,680 Red Cross organizations in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The summary of the organizations by States is as follows: Ohio, 108 chapters, branches 523, auxiliaries 721; Indiana, 105 chapters, branches 341, auxiliaries 384; Kentucky, 144 chapters, branches 183, auxiliaries 166.

GOT MOVE ON ORDER.

The gung of tramp evangelist that recently infested Hartford, went on to Fordsville, where in their first service they attacked a well known Ohio county citizen for no good reason, and were given the move on order, which they promptly heeded. Ignorance and fanaticism commit many travesties in the name of religion.

AUSTRIA SWAMPED BY ITALIAN ARMY

Losses Total 200,000 In Battle On The River Piave.

Washington, June 25.—A dispatch to the Italian embassy from Rome today confirmed the announcement yesterday that prisoners taken by the Italians in the fighting at the Piave numbered 45,000. This includes some 12,000 or 15,000 captured during the past week before the Austrian offensive was turned into a rout.

Paris, June 25.—Austrian losses totaled 200,000 men, according to the Secolo, of Milan. Certain enemy divisions lost two-thirds of their effectives.

A dispatch to the Matin from Turin says that the rout of the Austrians is complete and that the Piave has carried away many Austrian dead. Italian cavalry, it is added, have advanced beyond the eastern bank of the river.

French newspapers continue to acclaim the Italian victory. Hope is expressed that Gen. Diaz, profiting by the demoralization of the enemy, will not confine the fighting to local actions, but will strike out boldly into an offensive and transform the Austrian retreat to the Piave into a decisive victory.

Several newspapers wonder whether the Germans will rush help to the Austrians by transferring forces from the western front. L'Homme Libre believes that such action is scarcely probable, as Emperor William and Von Hindenburg are convinced they cannot obtain a decision, except on the front from Switzerland to the sea.

London, June 25.—The extent to which the Italian pursuit of the Austrians across the Piave has developed is not known here, and no detailed reports have been received bringing events up to date.

A statement current in London yesterday that the Italians had taken 45,000 prisoners is said by the morning newspapers to be confirmed by the Italian embassy. The same statement is attributed to Premier Orlando by the Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The same correspondent quotes the Giornale D'Italia as saying that the troops of Archduke Joseph and General Wurm are virtually surrounded and must surrender or be annihilated.

The view in military circles is that the defeat of the Austrians is so crushing that it will be impossible for the enemy to repeat his offensive on a serious scale for several weeks. One of the causes for the Austrian disaster is said to have been faulty judgment in placing their reserves, by which they failed to be brought up at a critical moment to meet the clever strategy of the Italians.

So strongly is the Piave line now held by the Italians, say military critics, that it will be impossible for the disorganized enemy armies to retake it, and there is not the slightest fear that they again will try to cross the river. It is said they staked everything on this offensive and threw all their forces in it. Thirty-seven divisions have been identified as being in the battle.

OFF FOR THE WAR.

Ohio county sent twenty-seven more soldiers to Camp Taylor Wednesday. This makes the total number of Ohio county boys now in Camps or in France about 400. The boys sent Wednesday were the last published in this paper last week, except H. C. Steursman, of Horse Branch, who is in Pennsylvania, and a Blackburn boy, of Ceralvo, who is in Muhlenburg county, and had not received his notice. Both of these boys will be sent on to the camp within a few days. Delbert Barnard, of Hartford, and Mike Crain, of Horse Branch, voluntarily took the places of the two absent men. The boys going Wednesday were in the best of spirits, and appeared anxious for the trip. They left over the M. H. & E., via Owensboro. As usual there was a big crowd at the depot to tell the boys good bye, and wish them a pleasant journey and a safe return.

FAMOUS FLIERS AT NATION'S CAPITAL

German Air Attack Would Meet Best Airmen In World.

Is a German air raid on Washington possible? says the Washington Times.

It is. Submarines, capable of carrying several airplanes, have been repeatedly reported built by Germany for just this purpose. A fleet of these great U-boats could release their winged messengers of death just off the Atlantic coast some day or night, and within an hour a whole squadron of hostile airplanes might be soaring over Washington.

But any boche fliers who might take part in such a trip would find, to their surprise, that they had rushed into a veritable hornets nest of defending airplanes.

And every one of these airplanes would be maintained by an aviator who has written his name large on the scroll of fame as a war flier of many victories over the battlefields of France. Every one of the defending fleet which could rise from Potomac Park would be piloted by a birdman who has taken a large toll of foe aviators—who has downed enough planes to win the coveted title "ace."

Best Fliers in the World.

For in Washington to-day there are assembled the best fliers in the world. They are here with the allied aviation missions, teaching young American air cadets how to fly and vanish like the boche, adding America in the upholding of its gigantic air program, and incidentally giving exhibitions daily that have thrilled Washington time and again.

In Potomac Park there is a great, gray steel hanger, erected some time ago to house the airplanes that were to give exhibitions there. To-day there are in that hangar almost a dozen planes—French, British, Italian and American. Within a few days there will be added several other planes which have just arrived in this country, including a fighting monoplane which has seen service over the French front and which will be piloted here by Lieut. Constant Soulier, France's nineteen-year-old ace.

A partial list of the war-famous aviators to-day in Washington includes the following names—all of which will be recognized as having been cited repeatedly for exploits of valor over there.

Famous Names in List.

Lieut. Col. Charles F. Lee and Lieut. John A. Sully, of the British Royal Flying Corps; Capt. Silvio Rosati, pilot of the giant Caproni bombing plane, the Italian aviator par excellence; Sergt. Gianfelice Gino, Italian flier, who recently established a new record on a flight to this city from Hampton Roads, Va.; Major George Tulasne, chief of the French aviation mission; Capt. Alfred Heurtaux, France's "ace of aces," since the death of the brave Capt. Guynemer; Lieut. Constant Soulier, the nineteen-year-old ace who has officially downed fifteen Tuton airmen; Lieut. Georges Flache, the debonair young Frenchman whose daredevil exhibitions racked the nerves of Washington recently; Lieut. Max Benois, French air hero, who will soon fly over this city; Lieut. Henri Farre, who although he has not and will not fly here, has distinguished himself on bombing exhibitions over there, and who has painted more than 100 marvelous pictures of war in the air, which are on exhibition in Washington now.

The array of war fliers is supplemented by the presence of several civilian aviators of note, including the famous aviator Ruth Law, whose flights in an old model, unenclosed plane proved a great attraction on Liberty Loan Day.

Then too, there are in this city scores of young American fliers who, although their mettle has not yet been tested over the fighting lines in Europe, are as accomplished fliers as some of the men who are making history over there.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

PUBLISHERS ASK DELAY IN POSTAL INCREASE

Washington, June 21.—Newspaper publishers headed by Geo. McAneny of the New York Times, vice president of the American Publishers' Association, urged before the House Ways and Means Committee to-day that the zone system of increased second-class postage rate which goes into effect July 1 be suspended for at least a year.

The committee was told that while the additional revenue from the increased rates would be inconsiderable, the rates and the system would oppress the newspapers in time of need and oppose a system of collection complicated and expensive. Rates to the outer zones would be prohibitive, Mr. McAneny said, and would mean restriction of circulation. Arrangements for passing the increased cost of postage on to the subscriber, he said, already are under way.

A thorough investigation of the subject before drafting legislation was urged. Mr. McAneny asserted that the Post-office Department had been built into a profit maker largely through the instrumentality of second-class mail.

Chairman Kitchen, questioning the statement that the newspapers of the country could not stand the increase, asked for net income and loss of subscribers by individual large newspapers. Mr. McAneny said he knew nothing of their book figures; that there were 500 newspapers in the Publishers' Association. Representative Longworth, of Ohio, wanted to know about the proportion of newspaper circulation affected by second-class mail rates. The witness said that in the case of his paper it would be about 15 per cent, but he could not say as to newspapers generally.

Cholera Morbus.

This is a very painful and dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from it before medicine could be obtained or a physician summoned. The right way is to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house so as to be prepared for it. Mrs. Charles Eneyart, Huntingdon, Ind., writes: "During the summer of 1911 two of my children were taken sick with cholera morbus. I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and it gave them immediate relief."

AIR ROUTE TO EUROPE TO BE ESTABLISHED

Washington, June 21.—The establishment of an air route to Europe from the United States in order to bring the full force of the American effort in the air to bear against Germany, has been decided upon as a definite project by the British air council, a new organization, into which all British air service has been merged. This was disclosed to-day by Major General William Brancker, controller of equipment on the council, who is in Washington to discuss this and other projects relating to air warfare with American officials.

Plans for the initial flight in August, September or October of this year are already well advanced. American co-operation is sought and Gen. Brancker hopes the first machine will carry both British and American fliers. At least three British pilots are regarded as being qualified for the trip and are now here and several types of machines produced in England have an ample fuel capacity for the forty hours' flying it is estimated the trip would take.

RECRUIT PUTS POSER TO ENLISTMENT MAN

Stockton, Cal., June 21.—When is a "first child" not a "first child?" This is the question that has been causing Sergt. R. Mergenthal, of the local United States Marine Corps recruiting station, to spend sleepless nights lately.

George Hadley, of Kansas City, applied to Mergenthal for enlistment. When Hadley informed him that he was married and had two children, Mergenthal told him that he would draw $32.50 for a family allotment, namely $15 for his wife, $10 for his first child and $7.50 for his second child. But Hadley insisted on $35.

"How do you figure that?" queried Mergenthal.

"Well, my youngest are twins, so how are you going to figure the first child? They both come under the $10 head," answered Hadley.

"I gave up," declared Mergenthal after puzzling over it for a few hours. The delicate question has been put up to the authorities at Washington.

JES' THINKIN'

A soldier of color had been summoned to receive specific instructions, in the midst of which he seemingly became a bit "indifferent." The officer, in no uncertain tone demanded: "What's the matter with you?" "O, I wuz jes' thinkin' dat if we had some beans, we could have some po'k an' beans— if we had some po'k."

PLAN BIG BEAR HUNT AS BRUINS ARE DAMAGING

Marlington, W. Va., June 22.—Because of light hunting seasons bears have multiplied in great numbers in this section of West Virginia and their nightly depredations are keeping the farmers worried. More than 200 sheep have been killed by the animals within the last few weeks. An organized bear hunt is being planned.

INSTRUCTIONS TO DRAFT BOARDS ARE GIVEN OUT

By Provost Marshal General Crowder On "Work Or Fight" Order.

Washington, June 21.—Instructions to the draft boards were issued to-day by Provost Marshal General Crowder explaining and amplifying "the work or fight" order under which after July 1, all men of draft age, regardless of classification, must engage in employment to be productive or join the army.

"When it has been determined a person in deferred classification is an idler or engaged in non-productive service," said the instructions "the classification order number of such persons will be withdrawn and he will be immediately inducted into military service."

Several specific rulings were made as to the effect of the order upon certain classes named as non-productive. In the case of sports and amusements the language was repeated with emphasis, without mentioning baseball, the status of which will be decided only when some individual case has been appealed.

Managers, cooks, clerks and others not engaged in the actual serving of food or drink in public places are exempted from application in the section declaring the service of food and drink is non-productive.

Store executives, head of departments, traveling salesmen, registered pharmacists, delivery drivers and men doing heavy work are not included among the clerks and salesmen classed as doing non-productive work.

"Local boards will consider cases of withdrawal of deferred classification with common sense," Gen. Crowder's instructions say, and they name illness, vacation, the impossibility of securing productive employment without change of residence, as reasonable grounds for waiving the general order. Traveling salesmen will be considered as engaged in productive employment, but automobile salesmen in cities will not, it was explained. Public or private chauffeurs are held to be non-producers only when they combine other work with their mechanical duties.

Local boards are asked to assist registrants to obtain new employment through the Federal employment service and are given power to postpone action while effort is being made to place men in occupations held productive.

Has a Good Opinion of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"Chamberlain's Tablets are a wonder. I never sold anything that beat them," writes F. B. Tressey, Richmond, Ky. When troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial.

HENRY D. MOORMAN WRITES FROM FRANCE

Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Russell of Louisville, we reproduce herewith, a letter received by him from Henry D. Moorman, who is now with Uncle Sam's Forces in France.

France, May 18, 1918.

My dear Mr. Russell.—Just received first mail and it did me good to assist in its distribution. Hart, too, to observe expressions of those disappointed. There are many orphans. I note from company records, and some probably have none to write them. Letters from home, I am told by persons who know, mean more than all else. Our entire regiment is in quarantine and we cannot visit our "Best Friend," the Y. M. C. A. This organization and the K. of C. are certainly blessings, both used and enjoyed. They deserve the support given them. I have closely observed the systems employed and the conduct of their representatives from many angles. At every stop, even on the ocean, before we left Arizona and here, they know what we really need and supply it. We have plenty to eat and wear and, now, all else amounts to but "excess baggage." Father Lydon, our Chaplain, is very popular with the men. He sometimes induces attractions hooked at Y. M. C. A. to come into our camp. Included in these was a Belgian woman. The half has never been told of German cruelty and indecency to Belgians.

I was deeply impressed with our own activities at home but the warlike spirit and demonstration increases and intensifies as we near the front. Every constructive force is in arrest and destruction is the end in minds of all. Except for the tramp of soldiers, even large cities seem dead but for these activities connected with war work or supplies. A young man is seldom seen, not even a youth, unless in uniform and on sick leave or duty. Women and old men perform what little labor there seems to be done on the farms. A great many foreigners are seen among those constructing army buildings, etc. One sees all colors and shapes of uniforms. The English alone have representatives from Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Ireland, Wales, Scotland, India, Egypt and Fiji Islands. One American regiment sometimes has eight or ten different religious beliefs. Headquarters Company has men able to converse with most anybody we will ever need to understand. A great number are college men and many others who have seen much of the world from different angles. The German prisoners we have seen are very young looking. This is a beautiful country but it has a deserted and neglected appearance. The people seemed glad to see us but there is a haggard, anxious look that seems to characterize the populace, even the younger ones. We saw "Ford's" before we got off the ship and they are still passing on all roads. Many home products in evidence and the pouring in of soldiers and supplies is as if we were overrunning the country.

A Scotch soldier, in writing his wife, said he inclosed some money but doubted if it ever got to her, as it had to go through the hands of the censor. The impression that censorship is so rigid rolls the people at home of much news from their boys, I believe. In any event, it is easy to put in something prohibited and the wisdom of strict censorship is apparent.

Upon receipt of mail, was reminded of my promise to you to tell some of my experiences. Not much to tell, yet. I have ridden races, been in railroad wreck, storm on ocean, up in balloon and had other thrills but have indulged in nothing more absorbing than doing lookout duty for submarines in danger zone, in crows nest, when sea is rough. No trouble to keep your mind on your business.

We had little rough sea. This was fortunate as our ship was very small. Something amusing was always happening. Of course, the deck was slick, as were ladders and steps. If hash would sprout and grow where it landed, there would be a magnificent crop of "slum" from the boat deck to door of the hold. Waves could nearly wash a whole line of soldiers down at a time as they came up on deck on one end of the boat and went down into the other end to get "chow" (meals). Somebody was always discovering a submarine. In one instance the same turning out to be a vessel of our convoy, in heavy fog. The regiment seemed, at times, to be detailed en masse to feed the fish; but, though thereby almost persuaded, I escaped this routine. I hope to be able to tell you all about our trip over, sometime. If I could relate all attending circumstances, you would, as I have, more appreciate the efficiency of our wonderful navy and marine service.

Send me the Louisville Herald occasionally, as I am supposed to get the Courier and other papers from other sources. I have not seen my brother, Roy. He is 1st Lt. F. A. and is at the front. Neither have I seen Charles H. Moorman or Arthur Cox. Hope to see them soon. You would be surprised to see me return from a ten mile walk as spry as any corpulent gentleman of many fewer years. Have done such a march each day for quite awhile. Believe me, it would do every man of our mutual acquaintance good to follow my footsteps of the past three months. Our people have ceased to appreciate the necessities of life and are only concerned and think about things in the nature of luxuries, etc. This life brings one back to normal vision, to see things from the other fellow's angle; and makes men real comrades when you add to the present what the future holds for us. I am working hard but enjoy it all, and am sincerely glad I took the course I did. Know I am doing my full duty to others, the only real good a man can do, and have made a real sacrifice, and, after all, even if fate holds death's toy part, I count it more worth while than to have lived a little longer, then wearing out "chasing dollars," as too many go.

Will write you again sometime. Give my love to your family and believe me, Sincerely yours,

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

The Human Factors In Good Service

There are three parties to every telephone conversation—the party calling, the trained operator, and the party who answers. All three share alike the responsibility for quick and accurate telephone service.

The calling party should give the correct number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the transmitter, and wait at the telephone until the party answers or the operator reports. The called party should answer promptly.

Patience on the part of the telephone user and the telephone operator is also essential to good service.

LETTER FROM MR. SEHON.

Louisville, Ky., June 17, 1918
Mr. J. H. Thomas, Editor,
Hartford Republican,
Hartford, Kentucky.

My dear Mr. Thomas.—Your kind favor of June 15th with clipping enclosed just received. You do not know how much I appreciate your interest and many favors. It means a great deal to us to know we have a splendid friend in Hartford.

You will no doubt be interested to know that we dedicated our Service Flag of 96 stars and one Red Cross Sunday night, June 9th. The program was a success in every way. Dr. Powell presented the flag to Judge R. W. Bingham, our President and he accepted it in the name of the Society and presented it to Bishop Woodcock who accepted it for the State of Kentucky. I am very proud of the fact that we have 96 manly boys fighting for Uncle Sam but I am prouder still to know that we have a sweet young girl who has given her life and heart to her country to serve by helping the sick and wounded soldiers at the front. This young lady is represented on our flag by the Red Cross. I hope you will come to see us again soon and see our flag. I will be glad to send you a copy of the proceedings as soon as the pamphlet is published.

Thanking you again for your many kind favors and assuring you that if at any time we can serve you in any way we will be more than glad to do so, I remain

Your sincere friend,
GEO. SEHON,
Superintendent.

LONDON PAPERS ARE SCARCE AND HIGHER

London, May 31.—(By mail.)—There are no excited newsmen in London. Papers are not "yelled" or pushed as in American cities. Neither are there any corner newstands. The men and women selling papers "hang out" near hotels, cafes and theaters. Due to the paper shortage, the newspapers being allowed only one-sixth of the pre-war supply, circulations are being curtailed, prices increased and sizes reduced.

The Daily Express, the last of the half-penny (one cent United States money) papers, has advanced its price to a penny; the Times, which is endeavoring to limit its circulation to not more than 120,000, has put its price at three pence. Similarly large morning papers, the Post and Telegraph, are two pence each.

The Star, an evening paper, carries such messages "Pass it on, so others will not have to buy it," and the Pall Mall Gazette says if readers do not wish being disappointed in getting their paper they should place an order with a news agent to hold the paper.

It is difficult to find an evening paper on sale after 6:30 p. m., or a morning paper after 9:00 a. m. Hence the newsmen do not have to "push" sales.

GERMAN NAVAL CRITIC ADMITS U-BOAT BEATEN

London, June.—"That German U-boats are unequal to the warfare against them is the virtual admission of Capt. Persius, the naval critic of the Berliner Tageblatt, says a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. Capt. Persius writes: "Every layman knows that U-boat losses are unavoidable owing to the continually increasing sharpness and effectiveness of the defense measures of the enemy which, perhaps, will further increase as the war progress is."

"It is scarcely to be denied that our enemies are both carrying on the war and living and that it will be possible for them to defend themselves against tonnage needs for a long time at any rate. From the beginning of the U-boat war it was a mistake, often committed among us, to underestimate the resources of our enemies."

LONDON OVERRUN BY FEMALE SPIES

Beauties Clean Valuable Military Information For Huns.

London, June 22.—London is infested with women spies.

In all the hotels, cafes and restaurants they carry on their nefarious work, their chief occupation apparently being to keep their ears open and overhear all the gossip they possibly can about England's war movements.

They are difficult to trap, because London is still the world's most cosmopolitan city, and the West End is crowded with male and female adventurers from every land—including Germany.

The women spies are of all nationalities, but Russians seem to predominate. If they were captured they undoubtedly would declare loudly loyalty to the allies, but there is little doubt that a vast number of them are in the pay of Germany.

The war has shown men to be worse gossipers than women. In the hotels and restaurants, therefore, these women, most of them beautiful, scrape acquaintances with soldiers and civilians, talk with them, draw them out on military subjects, and without question turn over the information they gather to some master spy in England, Holland or some other neutral country for transmission to Berlin.

Huns Knew Of Ostend Raid.

The most insignificant appearing bit of intelligence collected in this way may be the final item in a vast patchwork of information that will enable Germany to piece together and verify England's military plans.

It is known that the Huns had advance information of the English naval raid on the submarine bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge, obtained merely through the fact that for days before the raid it was common gossip about the east coast that the navy was preparing for it.

One mystery of a London hotel is at present intriguing Londoners.

A little cluster of Russian women, young, pretty, and with attractive manners, went about the hotel unchaperoned, and soon found plenty of admirers.

Talked to Army Men.

It was noted that they confined their attentions exclusively to soldiers, sailors and airmen. They never spoke to civilians, but no sooner did an officer appear in the lobbies than they managed in one of the thousand and one ways known to women to scrape an acquaintance with him.

They would have a cup of tea and a cigarette with him, talk for a half an hour and then make some excuse and get away.

These Russian women were seen to be constantly in the company of a young Russian civilian staying at the hotel who appeared to be cross-examining them in conversation.

Eventually their suspicious behavior attracted attention, and a watch was set on them. The next day they disappeared.

Another example is cited in the experience of a young aviator officer who had his wits with him.

Spurn Woman Spy.

With another pilot, he was dining at a restaurant known for its foreign clientele. They were talking loudly and somewhat heedlessly.

A woman sitting at the next table—a total stranger to them—leaned over and asked:

"I wonder if you can tell me where the squadron is stationed now? I have a friend there."

The aviator had sense enough to say they did not know, and immediately changed the subject of their conversations to theaters and other harmless topics.

The English are waking up to this situation, and appeals are being made to every one in strong language to cease discussing military affairs in public and talk to no strange women.

Whooping Cough.

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy, which can be done by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. P. H. Martin, Peru, Ind., writes, "My two daughters had whooping cough. I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it worked like a charm."

THE AGE OF SERVICE.

VS.
SYMBOL OF THE CLUB.

Any keen observer can see that there is a New Spirit in business.

The earliest business of mankind was on a basis of savagery, a fight to get possession of property. Brains and muscles were essential; the stealthy march, the night raid, the ambush, the club—these were tools and methods of ancient business.

The change from that Predatory Age to this present Age of Service has been long and gradual, a tollsome ascent, says The Periscope.

But things ARE different today. The new SIGN OF SERVICE replaces the old SYMBOL OF THE CLUB.

Perhaps the cynic will point out that elements of the old primitive cut-throat business still survive in our midst.

True. We have not reached the end of the journey. BUT WE ARE ON THE WAY. Even if the Tiger and Vulture survive in our modern business and though they die hard yet they are doomed.

All business must stand the acid test which is being imposed everywhere to-day: DO YOU CONTRIBUTE TO HUMAN WELFARE?

Those who cannot safely undergo this test are destined to failure. The world is not in the mood to tolerate the business agencies which militate against the COMMON WEAL.

To each of us doing business of any kind in this busy world to-day there comes the joy of recognizing that we have a part in the great task of the age.

To no one of us is it given to do it all. Each bears only a part. Enough if we be possessed and dominated by this new spirit of business: THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE.—Team Work.

YANKS HOLD THIRTY-THREE MILES OF FIGHTING FRONT

Washington, June 21.—American soldiers are now holding the fighting line for a distance of thirty-three miles on the western front, according to information given members of the House Military Committee to-day at the weekly conference with Secretary Baker and General March, Chief of staff.

This mileage is held by "all American" forces under command of American officers, located at six different places along the fighting line. Other Americans are at the front with British and French units.

Members of the committee were told again that there was no thought of diminishing the movement of troops across the Atlantic because of the operation of U-boats off the American coast.

After the conference Representative Caldwell, of New York, said as far as America is concerned, "the war will begin next September." By that time materials now being manufactured will be ready in great abundance for making the presence of American troops felt by the enemy, and the fighting planned for the United States soldiers will have begun.

Fighting on the Italian front was discussed and military authorities declared it has not reached a stage to be considered serious for the allies.

Members of the committee said a sufficient number of rapid-fire guns now is being manufactured here to supply the needs of American troops and that the output will be increased as needed.

FAST, LIGHT AIRPLANES.

Will Be Produced In The American Factories Soon.

Washington, June 21.—American airplane factories soon will be called upon to produce a fast single-seated fighting plane in addition to the bombing planes now being constructed. Preparations for the production of the smaller and lighter plane, it is stated authoritatively, are under way, although details as to construction and tests of the machine have not been made public.

The new planes will be the first of the type to be constructed in this country for the American government. On account of its constant improvements being made upon the fast machines, upon recommendation of Gen. Pershing, all previous contracts, amounting to approximately $55,000,000, were placed with firms abroad.

Decision to build the single-seated planes in this country is taken to indicate that army officials believe the day of the two man duels in the air is passing and that the pursuit planes are becoming more and more useful.

RIVETS FLYING AS GUNS SCREAM

Riveting Machines Doing Their Might On Ships Says Schwab.

(Milton Bronner in Louisville Herald.)

Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Says Charles M. Schwab:

"The rat-tat-tat of the German machine guns is being answered not only by our brave boys over there in company with their gallant allies. It is being answered over here in 137 shipyards by the rat-tat-tat of the riveting machines. And the reply is going to be very satisfactory from an American standpoint."

"How satisfactory in figures? I shot at the steel king, who is director general of Uncle Sam's shipbuilding endeavors."

"I never make predictions," Schwab responded to my query. "I like only to let accomplished facts speak for themselves."

"We put 263,000 tons of ships in the water in May. Not launched merely, but actually in commission to do the work Uncle Sam wants them to do. That means more than an average of 10,000 tons for every working day. The ships actually averaged about 6,000 tons."

Won't Make Predictions.

"Does that represent the maximum we will accomplish per month? Again, nothing doing on the prediction stuff. It simply gives a measure of what we hope to do."

"We have already broken some world's records in the time it took to build the Tuckahoe and the South Pole. And I know the men in the shipyards are full of zest for more such records."

"This job is intensely interesting. My part in it is twofold:

"First—To direct and arouse a spirit of enthusiasm among the men which makes for successful accomplishment."

"Second—To see that every ounce of material needed for the shipyards is produced, whether it be steel plates, engines, boilers or what not."

"As to the first: I think the men in the shipyards already have the enthusiasm for the job in hand. There is generous rivalry between the various yards, which makes for large accomplishment. That is what is meant by my slogan, 'Enthusiasm and competition.'"

"As to the second: We are getting the material as we need them, and I hope this will continue."

No Friction With Daniels.

"I see it stated Secretary Daniels yield to your insistent demand for the output of one of the big turbine factories," I interjected.

"I am glad you brought that up," Schwab replied earnestly. "People are always talking as if there were friction between Mr. Daniels and me. There is not a word of truth in it. Mr. Daniels has been fine, just fine. He has been helpful in every possible way. He has been a very good friend for years."

"We never had a difference save over business matters, and then only in a more or less jocose manner."

"But I don't want to talk about myself. I would rather talk about the men in the yards."

"I want the shipyard workers to hold their heads high when they go out with their wives or sweethearts. We won't give them a uniform, but we intend to give each man who has been on the job without intermission for four months a service pin. He will get an extra bar for every two months' additional service. He should be as proud to wear it as the soldier who displays his service badge, and he should have the firm feeling that he has done as much for his country."

"For, by golly, he has!"

REACH COMPROMISE ON PNEUMATIC MAIL TUBES

Washington, June 21.—A compromise in the controversy in Congress over Federal purchase of pneumatic mail tube systems in several of the large cities of the country, proposed in a Senate amendment to the post-office appropriation bill, was reached to-day by Senate and House conferees.

It was agreed to submit the entire matter to the Interstate Commerce Commission with a requirement for a report from the commission next December regarding whether the tubes should be purchased, their lease continued or abandoned as a mail auxiliary service. During the investigation the tubes would be continued in operation until March 4, 1919.

Postmaster General Hurleson was reported to-day to oppose the compromise and still demanding abandonment of the tubes. He has written Chairman Moon, of the House Post-office Committee, suggesting that in lieu of the tubes in greater New York mail service through subways be facilitated.

If the tube compromise is accepted by the Senate and House the deadlock over the $33,000,000 post-office appropriation bill will be broken, the tube question being the only point remaining in controversy.

WILL CALL FOR TROOPS IN RUSSIA

London.—Germany is about to withdraw the bulk of her troops now in Russia for service on the Western front, according to a statement in Maxim Gorky's newspaper, the Petrograd Novaya Zhest, quoted by the Daily News' correspondent at Stockholm.

The Novaya Zhest claims to give the text of a dispatch sent by General Falkenhayn, former chief of the German general staff, which, it says, was intercepted. In which General Falkenhayn declares that the battles on the Western front are critical and decisive, but that in order to insure definite victory and the end of the war, the concentration of enormous forces will be necessary.

"In view of the fact that our troops on the Russian and Ukraine fronts have attained their objects," the dispatch continues, "and are now resting, the Emperor has instructed the general staff to take measures for the transportation to France of the majority of the German forces in White Russia, Ukraine and Great Russia, leaving there only small detachments necessary to maintain order."

The transportation, according to the quoted message, was to be effected within seven days. Strong measures were to be taken against possible interference by employees of the Russian railway with the troop movement.

U. S. TROOP TRANSPORT ESCAPES FROM U-BOAT.

An Atlantic Port, June 21.—An American troop transport formerly a German liner, which returned this week from a French port, was subjected to a shellfire attack from a German submarine two days out from the port of departure, it became known here to-day. The transport escaped by superior speed, although a running battle lasting more than an hour took place in which more than 100 shots were fired by the two vessels.

The submarine appeared to have one gun that outranged any carried by the transport and from this gun there were counted thirty-five shots, none of which, however, hit the American ship. The submarine did not venture close enough to use a torpedo.

U. S. PROVIDING RIFLES FOR 4,000,000 MEN

Washington, June 20.—In the belief that congress will order an army of at least 4,000,000 by the end of the year, the Ordnance department has prepared new rifle delivery schedules, which will guarantee the arming of the new men as soon as they reach the training camps.

In addition, provision will be made for the arming of at least 1,000,000 members of home guard units. Already about 10,000 rifles of the Ross type, formerly used by the Canadians, and an equal number from the 500,000 rifles manufactured for the Russian government and owned now by the United States have been allotted the New York state troops.

EASTLAND VICTIMS' HEIRS SUING FOR $3,500,000

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—A total of $3,500,000 is asked from the state of Illinois by heirs of victims of the Eastland steamship disaster in Chicago. A claim for that sum has been filed with the State Court of Claims by attorneys.

In its regulations governing the price of wool, the War Industries Board allows dealers to make a charge of 3 per cent of the selling price if the wool is not graded, and 3 1/2 per cent if graded. This commission is to cover all shortage, cartage, and insurance.

10 PER CENT INCREASE GRANTED NEW EXPRESS CO.

Washington, June 20.—The consolidated Express company, which will start operations July 1 with increase in the rates of about ten per cent, with the sanction of the interstate commerce commission, it was learned to-day. Many exceptions to the general increase are to be made, however.

FACTS ON FOURTH LOAN.

Washington, June 20.—Tentative plans for the Fourth Liberty Loan, as indicated by the treasury, are: Amount, at least $6,000,000,000. Interest rate, 4 1/4 per cent. Campaign to open early in October. Denomination of bonds same as third loan.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28

The city fathers might perform a useful service by calling a weed cutting day.

The mail service is improving. We received our Owensboro Sunday Messenger on the first mail Tuesday.

The government must raise vast sums of money with which to win the war. Do your part by buying war savings stamps.

The boys "over there" are risking their lives for us. Let us do our full duty by buying War Savings Stamps to help feed them while they fight.

If plowing farm land when it is wet makes the ground run together and get hard, why would not dragging the roads after a rain have the same effect?

The interest on the five hundred dollars spent for the Illuminum that stands ended up on the floor at the court house, would fill up a good sized mudhole.

We must worry along with 36 pounds of sugar a year, but it helps a little bit to know that in England they get only 26 pounds, and in France and Italy only 13.

It is definitely settled now that there will be no change made in draft ages at the present time. Further consideration will be given the matter after the summer adjournment.

After raising a great tempest in a tea pot about the matter England has given up the idea of conscription in Ireland. England knows how to raise an Irish army but she is not willing to pay the price—Home Rule.

Those people who are using more flour or sugar than is allowed are disloyal to the country, disloyal to their fellowmen who are sacrificing to save food for our army, and aiding the enemy to murder our sons.

A few enterprising farmers in the county are keeping in repair the public roads upon which their farms lie.
This is a commendable public spirit, and should be more generally adopted.

Just after the president said "let politics stand adjourned," Vice-President Tom Marshall appeared before the Indiana state Democratic convention and made a rip-roaring Democratic speech. Why doesn't the president adjourn Tom?

Tom Marshall says providence has set the president on the mountain peak of duty. The Kaiser says Gott is his partner. As between the declarations of Marshall and the Kaiser how is the humble layman to tell which one has lied on the Lord?

For once the American people have an opportunity to perform a patriotic service and at the same time conserve their personal fortunes.
By practicing a little self-denial and buying War Savings Stamps they will help both the government and themselves.

Every living human being must eat bread, so the government fixed the price of wheat that all might eat.
Every human body, from the babe in the manger to the corpse in the coffin, must wear cotton. Then why does not the government fix the price of cotton?

O, well, we will have a primary.
M. L. Heavrin, of Hartford, and F.
J. Pentacost, of Henderson, will contest the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Second Judicial district, and like Masson, of Beaver Dam, and John Haswell, of Hardinsburg, will cross swords for the congressional nomination.

plate advertising for bond and stamp plot advertising for bond and stamp sales persist in using the pictures of Democratic politicians in making such plates. The practice is inexcusable.
We are loyally supporting the administration in the prosecution of the war, but we are not interested in furthering the political fortunes of Democratic leaders.

After being solemnly assured by the Democratic newspapers for months that Senator James would have no opposition in his own party for the nomination at the August primary, it turns out that Ollie will have to submit to a race. The Hon.
Press Kimball, former congressman from the seventh district, has announced against James, and will give him a race.

We should like to see a big service flag, with a blue star on its field for every soldier boy in the camps or in France, floating from the flag pole in the court house yard. Who will lead the movement for the popular subscription to buy the flag? Let us send the message to our boys in France that we at least float a star on the breeze at home in holy memory of them.

When the victorious allies begin to build anew the national fabrics of the old world they should not forget their duty to broken and bleeding Russia. Russia under the rule of the Bolsheviks may present little claims for sympathy, but it must not be forgotten that Russia did bleed and die in the great hour of the allies' need, and her army played an important part in staying the hand of the Hun until England, France and Italy could prepare for the final conquest.

At the August primary the people of Ohio county will be called upon to vote on the road tax. The measure, if it carries, will impose a tax of 20 cents on the hundred dollars worth of property to be expended for road purposes. For every dollar of road tax the people vote upon themselves the state will pay three dollars to the road fund of the county. The people are offered good roads if they will pay only 25 per cent of the cost of building them. The proposition looks too good to be lost.

The spirit of the allies is now firmly fixed that the war must be fought to a complete overthrow of the German power. Time and expense will not be considered in the larger necessity of finally and forever destroying the German military machine. The future tranquility of mankind can be secured only by crushing the military monster that is drenching the world in blood. Left with a germ of life it would rise up again to threaten the peace of mankind and the civil progress of the world. German lust for conquest must be destroyed.

America must win this war. The German military power to-day is stronger than that of the allies. This inequality must be overcome by the addition of American strength. We must send men and money in vast numbers and quantities to the relief of our allies. The condition is serious and calls for the best that is in the hearts of our people. Every man, woman and child should perform some productive labor, luxuries should be scorned and every possible sacrifice should be made till we win the war. To hesitate to sacrifice is not only disloyal, it is a crime.

tificates was held at Fordsville Friday and Saturday. Thirteen applicants appeared for examination. Of ond-class certificates and four failed.

cates were: Evan Owen 91 10-11,

FLEE FROM BERLIN.

Copenhagen, June.—Four residents of Berlin attempted to escape from Germany Thursday in two airplanes.
One succeeded in landing in Denmark, but the other was brought down in the Baltic Sea by German guardships.
The machine which landed in Denmark had two occupants, one of whom, a reserve officer, is a professor in the University of Berlin. They say they fled from Berlin because of the conditions there.

BOILED DOWN.

The federal control of railroads in the first four months of such operation cost the government $100,000-000.

The British government has called for army service men up to fifty one years old.

Some of the mountain counties of Kentucky were the only counties in the United States to volunteer their total quota of men, and escape the draft.

Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist in exile from the United States, on a forfeited bond, offered to volunteer in the national army, but the authorities refused to accept him.

In a rear end collision at Gary,
Indiana, fifty nine people were killed and 115 injured. The killed and injured were on the Hagerback-wallace show train, and the accident will probably put the famous show out of business.

A big contonment is to be built at West Point, Ky., for artillery training. It will embrace 40,000 acres and accommodate 30,000 men.

The five big express companies of the country have been merged into one company, known as the Federal Express Company, and placed under federal control. Rates are advanced 10 per cent.

According to Gen. March we will have one million soldiers in France
by July 1.

At Castle Rock, Wash., a section crew of seven is composed of women, who work in overalls.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waltz, of Hawesville, have six sons in the army, and have a younger son who will soon be old enough for draft service.

Despite prohibition and higher prices the consumption of whiskey in the United States for the year 1917 was the largest in the country's history.

The freight offices of the L. & N.
and the I. C. railroads at Owensboro will be combined, and will be consolidated at the freight offices now used by the L. & N.

NOTICE TO ROAD CONTRACTORS.

Notice is hereby given that on the 12th day of July, 1918, at the court house door in Hartford, Ky., bids will be received by the Ohio County Fiscal Court for the grading and construction of about 2½ miles of intercounty seat State aid road as follows: The Hartford-Hardinsburg road from the town limits of Hartford to the junction of the Sulphur Springs and Davidson Station roads, near the Milton Taylor place.

Plans and specifications for the construction of this road are on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Roads, Frankfort, Ky., and the office of the County Judge of Ohio county. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Each bid must be accompanied by a check for $500 as a guarantee to enter into contract with the Fiscal Court if the bidder be awarded the work.

MACK COOK,
5212 Judge Ohio County Court.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Orders have been received by the Ohio county chapter giving her quota of work until Sept. 1st.

The work rooms in Hartford have been nicely cleaned, a new Illuminum kaid in the sewing room. Two new machines installed and the ladies will be notified when the material arrives and when work will be resumed.

Mr. W. M. Fair—of Fair & Co.— kindly donated two new window shades, much needed in the rooms and the awning for the rear room has been ordered. So that the rooms will be more comfortable during the summer.

Hartford friends of the Red Cross, have responded promptly to every suggestion of articles needed at the rooms and now the only pressing want is a half dozen more chairs. The two court house benches have been removed and some comfortable sewing chairs would be acceptable.

A BIG TAX DAY.

Sometime ago a state revenue agent came here and went through the county clerk's office in search of delinquent tax payers. He found several hundred delinquents and advertised land sales. The delinquents were notified and Wednesday was the day set for them to come in to settle with the Revenue Agent. The agent failed to come. A big bunch came in, and it looked like Circuit Court day in Hartford. The penalty for delinquency is heavy, and it requires three times as much to pay the tax as it would have taken had it been paid when first due.

Middle Aged Women

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles.

Freemont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Sheep Industry Will Stabilize Farming.

The continued prevalence of high wool and meat values has placed the sheep business in a new light. The result will be that this phase of animal husbandry will contribute materially to the Nation's food and clothing supply. It will also add stability to our system of farming and play an important part in the more complete utilization of our agricultural resources.

Peanut butter, rich in fat and protein, is not only a butter substitute, but a substitute for meat.

Keep The Pullets Growing.

For every day that your pullets fail to lay after they cease growing you are pocketing a loss.

Laying is retarded by any check to growth at any period from hatching to maturity.

Laying is retarded by seemingly trivial disturbances, like moving from place to place and radical changes in rations.

In order to be sure of early eggs—eggs laid at a time when prices are high and eggs scarce—see to it that the growth of your pullets is not retarded, and that they are never annoyed or frustrated unnecessarily.

Cannergams.

Get down to cases—cases of home-canned products.

A row of filled preserving jars is a good defense against winter.

Sterilized, sealed, saved—the three "S's" of home canning.

S. O. S.—Sterilize on stove—another way of saying "boil those jars of fruits and vegetables so they will keep perfectly."

The useful life of a preserving jar—filled in summer, ready by fall, emptied in winter—hungry to save more food next spring and summer.

A wooden false bottom is a home-canning outfit is a raft that keeps lots of perishable food from being lost.

An all-round good thing for the Nation—a rubber ring on a preserving jar.

A fourth floor apartment is a fine place to produce a canned garden.

Persons of every level should can, the family in the top flat as well as the dweller in the bungalow.

You don't need even a foot of earth to raise a canned garden—in fact the less dirt the better in home canning.

The color of those jars of canned and preserved products put a service emblem in your kitchen.

Brighten the corner of that kitchen closet—with canned beans, fruits, berries.

The needs and habits of sheep differ widely from those of horses, cattle, and swine, but presently no problems that will not be met by study and observation supported by satisfactory returns. The way boys in sheep clubs have mastered the principles of sheep raising is ample proof of this statement.

State Losses From Rodents.

Some idea of the loss suffered by individual States from native rodents may be obtained from the following estimate recently submitted to the United States Department of Agriculture by State directors of agricultural extension work: Montana, $15,- 000,000 to $20,000,000; North Dakota, $6,000,000 to $9,000,000; Kansas, $12,000,000; Colorado, $2,000,000; California, $20,000,000; Wyoming, $15 per cent of all crops; Nevada, 10 to 15 per cent of all crops, or $1,000,000; New Mexico, $1,200,000 loss to crops and double this amount to range.

In the improvement of beef cattle care has been taken to develop to the greatest extent those portions of the body from which are secured the high-priced cuts of beef. These points should be kept in mind when selecting breeding animals.

Watch For "Locusts."

Agents of the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture are requested to report the occurrence this year of swarms of the periodical cicada (17-year locust). The brood of cicada due this year is designated as Brood IX and its main location extends from the southern part of West Virginia into North Carolina. Reports of other years indicate also scattering colonies of this brood in northern Virginia and West Virginia and extending northward into Ohio.

Brood X, the largest of the 17-year broods, is due next year, 1919, which, therefore, will be the great cicada year of the current 17-year period. Brood X occupies the Ohio Valley and the Alleghany Mountain region from Alabama and Georgia northward through Pennsylvania to scattered colonies in New York and some of the New England States.

To control or eradicate a weed it is first necessary to determine the kind, the character, and habits of growth and reproduction, and sufficient about its life history to fix the time when it is most susceptible to treatment.

Very often the price of land in a community is largely regulated by the number and character of the weeds present.

Free The Henhouse Of All The Pests.

Fowls are infested by two kinds of body parasites—lice and mites. Lice live continuously upon the birds. The common mite feeds upon them on the roost at night, and after feeding secretes itself in the cracks and crevices about the roost.

There are many different kinds of poultry lice. Those most common on fowls are—the body louse, yellowish in color and about one-tenth of an inch in length, which remains on the skin of the fowl; the shaft louse, somewhat smaller and very pale in color, which is usually seen on the shafts of the feather; and the head louse, a large gray species which is most frequently observed on the heads of young chickens.

Lice are not usually very abundant on healthy fowls which are kept under sanitary conditions and provided with dust baths. They multiply rapidly upon birds of low vitality and sluggish temperament, and are quickly distributed through flocks upon premises where attention to cleanliness is indifferent.

Individual Treatment Advisable.

For novices in poultry keeping, and with small flocks generally, it is advisable to make sure that the flock is free from lice by giving the birds individual treatment, which will secure that result. The most universally procurable article for this purpose is powdered sulphur. The method of applying this is to hold the bird by the feet, head down, and dust the sulphur freely into the feathers, using either a small insect-powder gun, or a can with perforated cover. Pyrothrum may be used in the same way. Neither of these remedies will thoroughly and permanently rid poultry of lice. When they are used treatment must be repeated at more or less frequent intervals, as may appear necessary.

By using commercial sodium fluoride in the form of powder, or as a dip, all species of poultry lice may be destroyed at one application. As the high efficiency of sodium fluoride destroying lice on poultry is of recent discovery the material is not ordinarily found in all drug stores. With a demand for it, however, local druggists will secure supplies. Poultry keepers who desire to thoroughly eradicate lice from their flocks should write the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin 801, which gives, with full details of the use of sodium fluoride, complete information on the control of mites and lice.

The common chicken mite is a very small gray insect, when it has filled itself with blood, becomes bright red, hence the name "red mite" by which it is often called. It may be discovered, if present, by looking on the under side of the roost and nest supports, and in the wall crevices near them. Where the mites are very abundant they may be found in large masses in such places. They also frequent the nest of sitting hens. With reasonable attention to the cleanliness of poultry houses, mites are not likely to be troublesome except in warm weather.

Treatment for mites consist in applications of liquid insecticides or disinfectants applied to the places where they harbor, repeating the applications at intervals of about a week until all are destroyed. Any of the petroleum products commonly used for disinfectant purposes will be found effective for the destruction of mites.

Good Roads Centralize Schools.

That improved roads would benefit our country-school system there would seem to be no doubt. Good roads makes it possible to consolidate or centralize the schools and to establish graded schools in the rural districts. Such schools centrally located will accommodate all of the children within a radius of 4 or 5 miles. In many communities having the advantage of improved roads commodious buildings have been provided, more competent teachers for teaching supplied at a minimum cost.

How Weeds Reduce Crop Yield.

Considering the principal crops in the United States, it is estimated that weeds reduce the yield of corn by 10 per cent; tame hay, 3 to 16 per cent; potatoes, 6 to 10 per cent; spring grain, 12 to 15 per cent; winter grain, 5 to 9 per cent; tobacco, fruit, and truck crops, 0 to 5 per cent; pasture, 5 to 50 per cent.

Look Out For Fires In Hay Stacks—

See That Hay Is Properly Cured. A well-filled mow of a big stack of hay, symbol ordinarily of happy prosperity, may contain within it the lurking spirit of a fire that will sweep a farmstead.

Many destructive blazes, points out a Department of Agriculture bulletin on fire prevention, have been caused by a spontaneous ignition of hay, especially clover and alfalfa. The first cutting of the latter seems to be most dangerous. If hay of this kind has rain or dew on it or if the stacks are not cured thoroughly, the moisture will cause fermentation which may produce sufficient heat to start a fire. The combustion, however, can not continue long without oxygen and may cease without coming to the surface. Its presence can be detected by a peculiar sooty odor or by smoke irritating to the eyes. It may take place from a few days to several weeks after the hay is put up.

About Weaning The Pigs.

When the pigs are about five weeks old, they will begin to taste some of their mother's feed. Do not be in a hurry to wean them. Eight weeks is young enough to wean them, if there is skim milk for them. Of course the size and development has a great deal to do with their weaning age. If skim milk is not obtainable, it is better to let the pigs nurse the sow until ten weeks old.

Skim milk and corn, or skim milk and short, fed in the proportion of 3 to 1, make an excellent ration for weanlings. If skim milk is not available, a mixture of 5 parts corn meal 4 parts middlings, and 1 part tank age, fed as a thin slop, is very good. Good succulent pasture is always beneficial. It will aid wonderfully in putting growth on the young pigs, and the grain expense will be lessened. After a litter of pigs has been weaned and are eating well, the most difficult part of their care is over.

Corn Is Champion Food Crop.

Corn, on a given area, will produce more human food than any other crop commonly grown on American farms. This crop heads the list in units of energy produced per acre and is ahead of all other crops except navy beans and soy beans in tissue building material. In the latter element, soy beans far outclass all other crops, showing twice as much protein per acre as navy beans, which rank second in this regard.

The dairy cow is the most efficient of farm animals in the production of human food (milk) and the hog is the most efficient in the conversion of grain into meat, producing five times as much per acre of crops as does any other animal.

RUSSELLITES GIVEN LONG PRISON TERMS

New York, June 21.—Joseph F. Rutherford, successor of "Pastor" Russell as head of the International Bible Students Association and six of his associates were to-day sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment for conspiracy to violate the espionage law.

Played By Court.

Twenty years on each count is the extreme penalty, and Federal Judge Howe, who imposed the punishment, denied all motions for setting aside the verdict, staying sentence or liberating the defendants on bail pending an appeal. Counsel for the defendants announced their intention to appeal at once to the Circuit Court.

"In the opinion of the court the religious propaganda which these defendants have vigorously advocated and spread throughout the nation as well as among our allies is a greater danger than a division of the German army," said Judge Howe in pronouncing sentence.

"If they had taken guns and swords and joined the German army the harm they could have done would have been insignificant compared with the results of their propaganda. A person preaching religion usually has much influence and if he is sincere he is all the more effective. This aggravates rather than mitigates the wrong they have done."

"Therefore, as the only prudent thing to do with such persons, the court has concluded that the punishment should be severe."

"The sentences will be served at the Federal penitentiary in Atlanta."

The charges against Rutherford and the other defendants was that they preach sedition in "Pastor" Russell's posthumous book, "The Finished Mystery," and advised resistance to the draft.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

They have shortened our flour rations so that we now get just about enough to make old fashioned thickened gravy, that is, we would have, if we had something to grease the gravy.

But Nall has been troubled with bad feet lately (and so have those who have been forced to associate with him) and while the examining physicians did not use a magnifying glass or the X-ray, he said it was no trouble to tell that said feet needed nothing more than concentrated lye, water and brisk rubbing.

We saw a little "nigger" near the bakery the other evening with a hunk of old time before-the-war jelly cake as big as Bob Walker's foot (no, not both, just one of them) and if we'd had that nigger out in some lone-some spot we'd a had that cake or murdered him on the spot.

John Henry boasted the road working proposition sky-high, got every fellow possible in a big way to give a day's labor, last Friday, and, true to our prediction, Thomas hit it for Louisville, leaving the office and work in such shape that Fluke could not even get off to work the road, as he patriotically wished to do.

The author, or perpetrator of this column and I. D. Clair were at daggers points for several days, due to jealousy. One patron of the paper dropped into the joint and said he believed that he liked "Stray Streaks" just a little bit better than he did Beads Oddly Strung. Another fellow, whose opinion I don't care much for, said he thought Beads Oddly Strung was not quite as rotten as Stray Streaks. Then the war broke out "over here" 'twixt Declair and yours truly, as to who was the most popular author, as to whose stuff was the most widely read, and as to which column induced the greater number of subscribers to drop their dollars into the concern's coffers. The row was in its height when along came a third, unappreciative, sort of a chronic growling, sore headed subscriber who said he thought it a darn sinful shame that the Board of Directors would permit such blamed rot to run in the paper as that under the names of I. D. Clair and Fluke McFluke, and that he was going to withdraw his support of 30 years standing, if the two columns were not cut out. The self-imagined writers of great and glorious squibs then quit their scrapping, started talking the matter over through the open door, each from his own apartment and are now living happily together, tho laying with blackjacks for the unappreciative, thick headed and bellying subscriber. Thus murder was prevented, and this story ends.

Everything in this column is original, new and true, if not otherwise.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Crops are needing rain. Some farmers are done planting corn, but the wire worms are doing great damage to that planted.

Wheat harvest is over and clover cutting is in progress.

A few girls are donning overalls, and taking their places in the fields, and doing the work of men. This good work just begun should be followed by other girls to help make a bumper crop. When the boys get back from France they will be wanting wives, and if they are wise as I think they are they will be looking for the girls that helped feed them while they were fighting for their country. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The editor of the Republican started in last week to tell what he didn't know but soon discovered it was too big a job and quit. No, John H., don't undertake it. Life is too short and paper too high.

Mrs. A. A. Murphy and three children, of Illinois, are visiting relatives. Mr. Murphy may follow soon. If the prospects look good Mr. Murphy may locate here again, for like most other people who leave Ohio county they are never satisfied till they come back.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG.

If the United States does declare war on Turkey won't we make the feathers fly?

McAdoo has nominated Pa-in-law for a third term, but if Pa runs them Democratic newspapers that fit Teddy so hard on the third term, will have to do a lot of camouflaging their editorials of 1916.

There is two native and one vialin' ninety-generians in Hartford this week. They are Uncle Willie Rander 93, Mrs. Q. C. Shanks 97, and Judge Cook's father 91.

The residence next door to mine was sold last week, and Tinsley was mean enough to say it will sell frequently unless I move.

I know a man in this town who has nine quarts of "Old Joe Taylor" whisky, and he is that dad dratted stingy he wouldn't give me and Lon Ralph and Judge Cook a drink after we went out and helped him thrash his wheat.

The street corner yarn wheel is spinning some this week. Steve May is at home.

Tinsley let it git out that if the Mason was elected to congress he was to be Ike's private secretary, and its losin' like a sight of votes.

We haven't seen Battie Nall for several days. Guess he is hidin' out from the make'm work commissioner.

I can give the llayti boys a clean bill of health about workin'. I passed through there Monday and there wasn't a mother's son of them to be seen. But they might a bin loafin' in the back yards.

There's enough gasoline wasted in runnin' round in automobiles, grubbed to worthless dogs and time lost in discussin' the war to feed Pershin's army.

I ain't uneasy about the future defense of the country. If the war lasts a few years longer we will have an army of old maids, big enough to whip the world.

They say there is only a thin line between genius and insanity, and after readin' Stray Streaks I'll be hanged if I can tell which side that thin line Tinsley is on.
